

Feel inspired by Everybody to Kenmure Street, screening this week at DCA. This Scottish documentary follows a successful act of civil resistance, as residents of Pollokshields rush to the streets to stop the deportation of their neighbours.

See Elvis sing and tell his story like never before with Baz Luhrmann's EPiC: Elvis Presley in Concert. Don't miss acclaimed feature Sound of Falling, along with more chances to see The Bride! and Peaky Blinders: The Immortal Man. Also on screen is our next Live from the Met opera, romantic epic Tristan und Isolde.

Our final Japan Foundation film is touching anime The Last Blossom, and you can join us for The Scottish Outdoor and Adventure Film Tour. Finally, we're celebrating the Oscars with awards films at DCA: join us for Sinners, One Battle After Another, Sentimental Value, Train Dreams, Marty Supreme and Hamnet.

Fri 20 - Thu 26 March

Everybody to Kenmure Street (12A, 1h38m)

A UK Home Office raid triggers a spontaneous act of civil resistance in Glasgow, as captured in this documentary about activism.

Everybody to Kenmure Street

EPiC: Elvis Presley in Concert (12A, 1h40m)

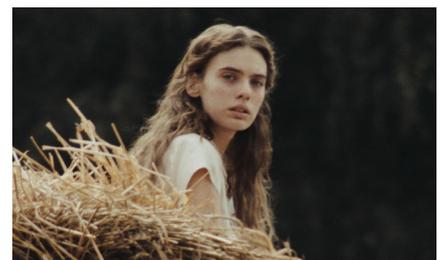

Directed by Baz Luhrmann, this film features long-lost footage from Presley's 1970s Las Vegas residency, along with insightful interviews.

EPiC: Elvis Presley in Concert

Sound of Falling (18, 2h35m)

An acclaimed international feature which follows four girls growing up on the same farm, separated by time but united by shared secrets.

Sound of Falling

Peaky Blinders: The Immortal Man (15, 1h52m)

Tommy Shelby returns from self-imposed exile to face his most destructive reckoning yet in this new feature length story.

The Bride! (15, 2h6m)

Jessie Buckley and Christian Bale star in director Maggie Gyllenhaal's bold, iconoclastic take on the classic Frankenstein tale.
