

Join us for Monster this week at DCA Cinema, the moving new drama from master director Hirokazu Kore-eda (Broker, Shoplifters). This powerful story unfolds through the eyes of mother, a child and a teacher and features a stunning soundtrack from Oscar-winning composer Ryuichi Sakamoto.

Another tale of family, Four Daughters, is on screen this week too. This documentary takes an experimental approach in exploring a Tunisian family who lost two daughters in tragic circumstances. Elsewhere, there are more chances to see sci-fi epic Dune: Part Two, and the biggest films of 2023: revisit Best Picture-winner Oppenheimer and the already-iconic Barbie this week.

Also in cinema, our Japan Foundation programme finishes with tragicomedy Twilight Cinema Blues, and NT Live returns with the award-winning play The Motive and the Cue. Finally, it's our 25th birthday and we're celebrating by bringing back a selection of the best films from 1999 – catch All About My Mother and Eyes Wide Shut this week. Enjoy!
